

NEW VICTIM
OF THE MOBMakes Eleventh Death In Georgia Race Riot

WAS STRUNG UP AND SHOT

Riot Started in Streets of Atlanta Saturday Night and Continued All Through Sunday, Breaking Out in Suburbs This Morning.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—Early this morning a mob of 200 men stormed the jail at East Point, five miles from Atlanta, took a negro named Zeb Long, who had been arrested on Sunday for carrying a loaded gun, strung him to a telegraph pole, and shot him to death. Long had resisted arrest and had been parading the streets with the gun. This makes the eleventh victim of the mob of the race riot, which started Saturday night and raged all day yesterday. At least 40 persons were injured, some of whom cannot live.

About ten o'clock Saturday night a negro man, a white woman from the sidewalk on Whitehall street in the center of the town. Almost simultaneously a negro woman made an insulting remark to a white man on an adjoining street, and he administered what he considered due punishment. From this start the mob began its work of destruction. Five thousand men and boys thronged the down town streets looking for negroes. News that a riot had started brought thousands more from their homes in the suburbs and residence districts, until fully ten thousand men thronged the downtown section. The rioters were pulled from the wires and in the semi-darkness of the unlighted cars, negroes were beaten, cut and stamped upon in unreasoning, mad frenzy. If a negro ventured resistance or remonstrated, it meant practically sure death. One car, half filled with negroes, approached from an outside street. The mob dashed for the car. Resistance was made by the negroes, who had not been apprised of the trouble. Three negroes lay dead on the floor of the car when it was permitted to move on, and two more were seriously beaten and unconscious.

Several houses were moved from their foundations and that of Mrs. W. C. Lither floated some distance, with the owner sick and in bed. The walls of the manufacturing plant of Bradford, Kyle & Co., were damaged but the plant was saved. The water rushed down Willard street causing a damage estimated at $10,000 or more.

HEAD-ON COLLISION.

Child Badly Injured and Other Persons
Hurt at West Barrington.

Barrington, R. I., Sept. 24.—A child was seriously injured and three other persons slightly hurt in a head-on collision between two trolley cars of the Rhode Island Suburban Railway company at West Barrington yesterday forenoon. One car was bound to Bristol and the other to Providence. The cars met on a curve while proceeding at a good speed.

The forward part of each car was wrecked. The passengers were thrown from their seats by the shock and some were cut by flying glass and splinters. The most seriously hurt was Christina Rose, a young girl, who was cut on the head and probably suffered internal injuries.

The accident is said to have been caused by a wrong turning of signals.

FIRE TO AID ROBBERY.

Says Lynn, Mass., Police of Sunday Morning Fire.

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 24.—The police discovered yesterday that a fire which destroyed the Goddard Brothers' bakery at 840 Summer street in the night, was of incendiary origin and there is suspicion that the ultimate motive of the fire was robbery.

The two-story wooden building burst into flames about midnight. The police yesterday found quantities of burned material in various parts of the house, so placed that the police were satisfied that the building had been at work. It was later learned that two young men had been seen at the time of the fire trying to get into a side window of the neighboring house of E. O. Goddard, one of the proprietors of the bakery.

The fall styles in the Dorothy Dodd shoes have arrived at W. J. McLean's store.

AN ELOPEMENT SUSPECTED.

Nashua, N. H., Woman Went to Bethel and Has Not Returned.

Nashua, N. H., Sept. 24.—The police have been notified to look out for Harry Blood and Miss Hattie Blanchard, who are supposed to be in Canada and to have gone through a marriage ceremony, although Blood has a wife in Hollis and a couple of children. Blood is 33 years old and worked for the railroad. He boarded at Hotel Devon near Nashua Junction, having been separated from his wife for some time, she having returned to her parents in Hollis. Her maiden name was Cameron. It was known that Blood had been keeping company with the Blanchard girl, who is 20 years old and lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blanchard, on Bowers street. Some time ago she went to Bethel, Vt., on a visit and was expected home Saturday to attend the Rogers-Sawyer nuptials. Not coming, an investigation was started which revealed the fact that Blood had given up his job and gone to Bethel, whence the couple had departed, as it is believed, for Canada. Blood had for some time been trying to get a divorce from his wife so that he could remarry legally.

GUNBOAT HELENA

Wrecked in Recent Hurricane Cannot Be Accounted For.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—The navy department this morning received an official despatch announcing the safe arrival at Shanghai of the gunboat Helena, which was reported to have been lost in the recent hurricane. It reads:

The department cannot account for the reports that the boat was lost. The Helena left Cavite September 15 and was somewhat delayed by stress of weather.

AGAINST MIXED MARRIAGES.

Catholic Bishop Spoke Out in Opposition to It.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Bishop P. A. Ludden of the Catholic diocese of Syracuse preached a long sermon yesterday morning denouncing mixed marriages. The recent elopement of a young society woman brought up in the Catholic faith and her marriage by a Methodist clergyman he called a travesty on marriage. Explaining how to prevent mixed marriages, the bishop said:

"The child must be watched in its early years, and parents must insist on guarding the affections of their children from being placed in a wrong direction. The affections grow stronger as the years go by. From the little boys in knickerbockers and the maiden in short dresses coming home from school, arise the conditions that frequently result in mixed marriages."

"We cannot compromise in religious matters. Of course socially and civilly there is no objection to compromises, but in religion, never."

GOV. HIGGINS MUM
ON THE GOVERNORSHIPRefused to State This Morning if He
Will Accept the Republican Nomination—Convention Opens Tomorrow.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Governor Higgins still declines to say whether or not he will accept a renomination. He was expected to make his position known this morning upon returning from his home in Olean. Since the convention opens tomorrow, it is hardly thought probable that he will delay the announcement of his intentions beyond this evening. The best opinion is that he will decline to run again. If he does the nominee will be either Charles E. Hughes or Lieutenant Governor M. Linu Bruce.

AT POINT OF REVOLVER.

Man Was Forced to Relinquish Small
Girl in Vergennes.

Vergennes Sept. 24.—Timothy Dugan, a man about 40 years old was arrested last evening by Special Police Officer F. T. Lefay and placed in jail by Police Officer Bates on the charge of attempted rape on Bessie, the eight-year-old girl of Lewis Forkey and wife. Dugan seized the girl as she was passing through Depot hollow and carried her some distance away before the road. A party of young men saw him and gave chase. When he saw he was pursued he grabbed the child and ran again, when he met Ernest Vanierloof who had heard of the affair and pointing a revolver at him ordered him to stop. Dugan dropped the child and ran away. He was found later near the falls and arrested.

IN SPITE OF OURSELVES.

We Are a World Power Says Admiral
George Dewey.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—"In spite of ourselves we have become a world power and we have to do a world power's work," said Admiral George Dewey this morning, discussing the Cuban situation. "In case the United States occupies Cuba, the insurgents may enjoy the support of European nations, a thing American people would be quick to resent."

UNCOVERED
A MYSTERYDismembered Body of Man
Found in New York

ARMS AND LEGS FOUND TOO

Head Is Still Missing—Man Had Probably
Been Killed Saturday Night—
Work of Dismemberment Was Skillfully Done.

New York, Sept. 24.—A burlap bag stamped with the name "Z. K. Miano," a strip of a woman's skirt and an oilcloth table covering bearing a rule sketch of the landing of Columbus, are the only immediate clues to the perpetrators of a revolting murder committed in the early hours of Sunday morning and accidentally revealed by a gruesome discovery in West Thirty-sixth street yesterday.

The dismembered body of a man, apparently an Italian, wrapped in a burlap bag, was found in a hole, twenty-four feet deep, dug in the ground near the corner of 604 West Thirty-sixth street, where an addition to a brewery is to stand.

The discovery was made by the day watchman for the building contractors and later a systematic search by the police resulted in finding the part of a man's legs from the knees down and the arms and hands. These were wrapped together in a newspaper of the date September 10, and bound about the bundle was a strip of a woman's skirt. All was neatly and securely tied with a string, suggesting deliberate preparation.

This latter bundle was found under a covering of hay in a freight car at Thirty-sixth street and Eleventh avenue. The car was unloaded of a shipment of horses Saturday morning. The head and the thighs are missing.

It is the theory of the police that the murder was committed near by where the body was found, and that three packages of the dismembered parts had been made with the purpose that they be disposed of at some distance from the scene of the crime. The police believe that the persons carrying the bundles became alarmed and hurriedly disposed of them at the nearest convenient hiding place. They expect to find a third package in the same vicinity.

Coroner's Physician Weston, who examined the body said that the work of dismemberment had been deliberately and skillfully done, suggesting the work of one familiar with surgical instruments.

He was born in Tipton, Vt., in 1839 and received his education at Castleton seminary, the university of Vermont and the Albany law school. He served in the civil war, but had to retire on account of ill health.

Among the most notable cases with which he has been connected is that of the Rutland railroad vs. ex-Governor John B. Page, the longest jury trial ever held in New England, lasting nine weeks. Mr. Ballard died at the home of his son at Hartford. The body will be brought here for burial.

FREIGHT CARS PILED
AT BETHEL YESTERDAYCaused Central Vermont Trains, Southbound, to Run Into Montpelier
Over the Montpelier & Wells
River Line to Woodsville.

A freight wreck on the Central Vermont railroad at Bethel yesterday made the company's schedule look like mince-meat and compelled the road to accept the courtesy of the Montpelier & Wells River R. R., so that it could get by the wreck. The fast New England States Limited, south-bound, pulled into Montpelier Junction about one time yesterday afternoon and was halted there because of the wreck. Just behind this express train a special train carrying New Hampshire and Massachusetts Odd Fellows who were returning from their convention in Toronto. After await at the Junction arrangements were made to send the trains over the Montpelier & Wells River line to Woodsville and thence down the Boston & Maine to White River Junction.

Both the trains then pulled into Montpelier and then another tedious delay was caused by the necessity for unhooking the huge Central engines because it was feared that the M. & W. bridges would not stand the strain, and putting on lighter engines. The new engines had to be steamed up. Finally after more than two hours wait, during which the Odd Fellows in gold braid and the other passengers had amused themselves as best they could about Montpelier the trains got under way again, drawn by two engines each. Nos. 35 and 36, the Central's fastest, were in the lead. The New England States Limited and No. 205 of the Central and the D. R. Sorell of the M. & W. drew the Odd Fellows' special. The trip to Woodsville was made without incident or accident and the trains were soon on their way seaward.

The collision at Bethel was the second of two freight trains, in which one engine was overturned and four cars were thrown down an embankment and the track was torn up for 150 feet. The wreckage was cleaned up late last night.

DAVIS LIES
IN HOSPITALEither Jumped or Fell From Branch Train

CONCUSSION OF BRAIN

Geo. M. Davis Found Unconscious Beside
Track Between Barre and Montpelier—Had Complained of Illness.

George M. Davis, a Montpelier stone cutter, lies in the Heaton hospital with serious injuries to his head, due to falling or jumping from a Central Vermont train which left Montpelier for Barre shortly after one o'clock Saturday afternoon. The man was found lying unconscious by the track by some men. Johnnott & Hall's ambulance was summoned and the injured man was taken to the hospital, where his wounds were treated. It was some time before the man was identified. The physicians think that he will recover, in spite of the concussion of the brain sustained in the fall from the rear end of the train.

Davis was seen by passengers to go to the rear of the train, accompanied by a little girl, the latter remaining in the car and looking out of the window. Soon afterwards the little girl was seen to break out weeping, and it is supposed that Davis fell from the train at that time.

The injured man was unconscious all Saturday night, but came to his senses yesterday, so that he was able to recognize his brother, Morton Davis, a street car motorman, who called at the hospital yesterday afternoon. In his plume from the train Davis sustained no broken bones and his skull was not fractured, which leads the physicians to the belief that he will ultimately recover.

Davis is 38 years of age and has resided in Montpelier for the past twenty years, having been employed by Sweeney Brothers for the past ten years. He was one of the most skilled granite letterers and carvers in Montpelier. His father, Orlando Davis, resides on a farm in Middlesex, and his brother, Charles, resides on the farm with his father. The injured man has not been living with his wife for some time.

Davis went to work as usual Saturday morning, but quit at 10 o'clock, complaining of feeling ill. A report from the hospital today states that the patient is resting comfortably.

BOWERS CLAM BAKE
ATTENDED BY 250Feast of Good Things Saturday Afternoon, Centering About a Real
Rhode Island Clam
Bake.

The eleventh annual clam bake tendered the granite manufacturers of this city and Montpelier by the R. C. Bowers granite company, was held Saturday afternoon at Fountain park. On account of the rain the attendance was not as large as usual, although there were some over 250 people who partook of the company's generous treat. These annual bakes have always been as near to the genuine Rhode Island clam bakes as it is possible to produce outside of the little state which has become noted for them, and Saturday's was fully up to the standard. The shovels, clams, lobsters, green corn and sweet potatoes were eaten with a relish and there was enough and more to satisfy everyone's capacity. Whittier's orchestra of nine pieces furnished an enjoyable concert inside the tent. The jovial president of the company, R. C. Bowers, wearing a "Woody Willie" cap pitched at just the right angle on his head, and several assistants wearing badges, "All Smiles Today," received the guests at the tent entrance and punched their tickets. The guests were all presented with a long stemmed wooden pipe and a package of tobacco to smoke at the conclusion of the feast.

Thinks an Injustice Was Done.

Editor Barre Daily Times—Dear Sir: It seems to me your article under the head of "Arrested by a Woman" does a double injustice; first, to the W. C. T. U., as I understand from inquiries made their reform work is done in a most quiet manner, and they do not care to take away any of the duties of the police force.

Second, to the woman who while a member of the W. C. T. U. was not working under direction of that organization, but was doing personal work as an individual citizen and to her should be given the honor.

From one who lives to have credit given where it belongs.

MULLEN CASE WAS NOT STARTED TODAYBarre Murder Case Is Delayed by the Trial of the McKinstry vs. Collins
Case, Which Has Already Occupied Three Weeks.

Because the McKinstry vs. Collins case monopolizes the Washington county court, as it has done for the past three weeks, the trial of Ray Mullen, who is charged with the murder of Fred Batchelder of Barre last spring, was not started this afternoon, as planned. And the attorneys in the case do not know when it will come up for trial. The McKinstry case will undoubtedly occupy until Wednesday and possibly may run longer. The court on Saturday dismissed the jurors, from whom a panel will be drawn for the trial of the Mullen case, until Wednesday, so that it is hoped that the McKinstry case may have been disposed of by that time.

Then comes another question as to the ability of the prosecuting attorneys to take up the case in the limited time at their disposal. Attorney General Fitts, who by law is made one of the prosecuting officers, will be busy about the opening of the legislature and cannot give his time after this week, while State's Attorney Jackson, having been elected representative from this city, will have all the more need for being present at the opening of the legislature on Wednesday. Attorney General Fitts and State's Attorney Jackson were in telephone communication Saturday afternoon, trying to decide upon some course to pursue. They are loath to turn the case over to another attorney, for the new man would be handicapped with lack of knowledge of the fine details of the case. The result may be that they will ask for a continuance, as they expect that the trial of the case will take more than a week.

SENTENCED TO JAIL
ON OLD OFFENCEMrs. Sadie Peake Cochran Arrested in Montpelier Saturday Night, Goes to Rutland on a Former Sentence.

Mrs. Sadie Peake Cochran of Montpelier fell into the hands of the police of that city again Saturday night and after spending Sunday in jail was before Judge Harvey this morning. Mrs. Cochran was one of the most skilled granite letterers and carvers in Montpelier. Just as she did on May 1, last. On the former occasion in addition to a fine she was sentenced to the house of correction for thirty days, but the latter part of the sentence was suspended pending her good behavior. Judge Harvey considered that she had not behaved well in the interim of her arrests, so this morning he ordered her commitment to the house of correction on the old case, fined her $15 and costs of $9.79 on the new offense, with an additional thirty days in the Rutland institution. The latter part of the sentence was again suspended during a period of two years. Mrs. Cochran will be taken to the house of correction soon to serve the former sentence of thirty days. Two women companions were about with Mrs. Cochran Saturday night but they were not arrested. Her arrest was made by Officers Connolly and Royce of the Montpelier bluecoats.

Tilden when they went to the shed to get out Mr. Ladd's automobile. F. W. Nichols took the young man to the police station and when questioned by the police he said that he had slept in the place the past two nights as he had no money to hire a room. DEATH ENDS
A DEBAUCHCharles Boivin Died In Montpelier Jail Last Night

ARRESTED IN THE MORNING

Symptoms Lead to Belief That He May Have Drunk Wood Alcohol or Something Similar—Was Formerly a Prosperous Barber.

Charles Boivin, a barber, whose home was in St. Albans, but who had been working at his trade in Montpelier for the past few months, died in the county jail at Montpelier last night of alcoholism and exposure. He was found early Sunday morning in a pitiable condition and carried to the jail. The symptoms were such as to lead to the belief that the man had been drinking wood alcohol or some liquid in which wood alcohol was an ingredient.

Patrolman Royce and Night Operator Herbert St. Martin of the Central Vermont railroad in Montpelier were standing on the railroad platform in that city yesterday morning waiting for the arrival of the 3:35 train when their attention was attracted by cries as from one in distress. Patrolman Connolly was summoned from the police station and the three men investigated. They found that the cries came from "Berlin side" across the Winoski river. Back of the Nichols block they found Boivin lying on the ground and only partially conscious. They carried the man back to the Central Vermont station and later to the hospital ward in the jail.

Boivin's condition was such at that time that they feared he would die, so they summoned Dr. Goodale. Boivin recovered consciousness, but had practically lost his sight, while his body was rigid. Dr. Goodale remained with the man during the greater part of the day, and the end came at 5:35 last evening. The death certificate says: "Acute alcoholism and exposure." For a week past Boivin had been lying heavily. It is known that he was under cover Friday night, but his whereabouts on Saturday night up to the time of his being found early Sunday morning are not known. It is supposed, however, that he was out in the open air practically all of Saturday night.

Mayor Haley of Montpelier communicated with the man's relatives in St. Albans and a brother arrived last night to take charge of the remains. Boivin was 37 years of age and leaves his parents and several brothers and sisters, who reside in St. Albans. At one time the deceased conducted a large barber shop in St. Albans. For two months recently he had been employed in the shop of Augustine Jangraw of Montpelier, but for a week past had not been working.

Prior to going to work in the Jangraw shop in Montpelier Boivin was in this city, having come from St. Albans to enter the H. A. Holt shop. Before beginning his duties he was arrested for intoxication, and was sent over to the county jail. When released from jail he remained in Montpelier.
